P-LAH Terms and Conditions

Effective Date: 13 August 2026
Last Updated: 15 August 2026

Welcome to P-LAH.

These Terms and Conditions ("Terms") govern your access to and use of p-lah.com, the P-LAH Volunteer & Opportunities platform, and related P-LAH services, features and resources.

By creating an account, accessing the platform, or using P-LAH services, you agree to these Terms.

Please read them carefully before using the platform.

1. About P-LAH

P-LAH ("P-LAH", "we", "us" or "our") provides a platform that helps connect individuals with organisations offering volunteer, internship, job and other relevant opportunities.

P-LAH may provide services including:

- individual and organisation profiles;
- opportunity listings;
- opportunity search and discovery;
- matching and recommendations;
- applications and invitations;
- placement management;
- ratings and feedback;
- completion records and certificates;
- organisation and member verification;
- communications and notifications; and
- related services designed to support connections between individuals and organisations.

P-LAH provides the platform and facilitates connections.

Organisations make their own final screening, selection, hiring, placement and engagement decisions.

Unless expressly stated otherwise, P-LAH is not the employer, recruitment agency, employee, contractor, partner or agent of either party to an opportunity or placement.

2. Who May Use P-LAH

You must be 18 years of age or older to create an account or participate in opportunities through the P-LAH platform.

By using P-LAH, you confirm that:

- you are at least 18 years old;
- the information you provide is true and accurate;
- you have the legal capacity to agree to these Terms; and
- your use of P-LAH does not violate any applicable law or regulation.

Organisations must be legally registered entities or recognised initiatives operating in good standing, subject to P-LAH's eligibility and verification requirements.

3. Creating an Account

Certain P-LAH services require an account.

When you create an account, you agree to:

- provide accurate and complete information;
- keep your information reasonably up to date;
- use your own identity and contact information;
- keep your login information secure;
- not allow another person to misuse your account; and
- notify P-LAH if you become aware of unauthorised access to your account.

You are responsible for activity carried out through your account unless the activity resulted from circumstances outside your reasonable control.

P-LAH may require email verification, profile completion, identity information or other verification before allowing access to certain platform features.

4. Types of Accounts

P-LAH may provide different account types, including:

Individual Accounts

Individual accounts may be used to:

- create a professional or volunteer profile;
- browse opportunities;
- save opportunities;
- receive recommendations;
- apply for opportunities;
- receive invitations from organisations;
- participate in placements;
- receive ratings or feedback; and

- access eligible certificates or placement records.

Organisation Accounts

Organisation accounts may be used to:

- create an organisation profile;
- submit opportunities;
- review applicants;
- view eligible recommended candidates;
- invite individuals to apply;
- manage applications and placements;
- confirm completion;
- provide ratings and feedback; and
- manage other organisation activities permitted by P-LAH.

Access to some organisation functions may depend on successful verification and approval.

5. Verification and Approval

P-LAH may review and verify individuals, organisations, profiles, opportunity listings or other information before allowing access to certain services.

Verification may include requesting information reasonably necessary to confirm identity, eligibility, organisation status, safeguarding requirements or compliance with P-LAH policies.

P-LAH may:

- approve an account;
- request additional information;
- request corrections;
- reject an application for approval;
- restrict certain features;
- suspend verification status; or
- require additional checks where appropriate.

Review Time

Where an individual or organisation submits a complete account for approval, P-LAH aims to complete the initial review within 5 business days of receiving a complete submission.

This is a service target and not a guaranteed deadline.

Some reviews may take longer where additional information, verification, investigation, safeguarding checks or other reasonable enquiries are required.

If P-LAH requests additional information, the review may remain open until the requested information has been provided.

Accounts That Are Not Approved

Where an account is not approved, P-LAH may provide the account holder with a reason for the decision through the platform, email or another appropriate method.

An individual or organisation that believes the decision should be reviewed may request a review by contacting:

appeals@p-lah.com

P-LAH aims to respond to a review request relating to an account that was not approved within 7 business days of receiving the review request.

More complex cases may take longer where additional information or investigation is required.

Submitting a review request does not automatically reverse the original decision. Restrictions associated with the decision may remain in place while the request is considered.

P-LAH may reopen the account review where it considers this appropriate. If the review is reopened, the account will return to the applicable review process and a new decision may be made.

Verification by P-LAH does not constitute a guarantee, endorsement or warranty regarding an individual or organisation.

Users should continue to exercise reasonable judgement when interacting with others through the platform.

6. Opportunity Listings

Organisations are responsible for ensuring that opportunity listings are accurate, lawful and not misleading.

Each organisation must provide reasonably complete information about an opportunity, including relevant details such as:

- opportunity type;
- title;
- description;
- responsibilities;
- location;
- work mode;
- required skills;
- time commitment;

- duration;
- compensation, stipend or reimbursement information where applicable; and
- application requirements.

Organisations must promptly update or close listings that are no longer available.

P-LAH may review, reject, edit for administrative purposes, suspend or remove an opportunity that:

- contains false or misleading information;
- violates these Terms or another P-LAH policy;
- presents a safety or safeguarding concern;
- appears unlawful;
- is discriminatory or exploitative;
- misrepresents the nature of an opportunity; or
- may otherwise cause harm to users or P-LAH.

7. Applying for Opportunities

Individuals may apply for eligible opportunities through the application method provided for that listing.

Some opportunities may be managed within the P-LAH platform.

Others may direct an applicant to contact an organisation by email or another external application method.

Where an application takes place outside P-LAH, the relevant organisation is responsible for that external application process.

Submitting an application does not guarantee:

- a response;
- an interview;
- shortlisting;
- acceptance;
- placement;
- employment; or
- any other particular outcome.

The organisation offering the opportunity makes the final selection decision.

8. Matching and Recommendations

P-LAH may use information contained in profiles and opportunity listings to provide matches, rankings or recommendations.

Information used may include factors such as:

- skills;
- causes and interests;
- experience;
- education;
- location;
- work mode;
- availability;
- time commitment; and
- opportunity preferences.

A match percentage, recommendation, candidate ranking or invitation is intended to assist discovery.

It does not mean that P-LAH guarantees that:

- the individual is suitable for the organisation;
- the organisation is suitable for the individual;
- an application will be accepted;
- a placement will be successful; or
- employment or another opportunity will result.

Users remain responsible for their own decisions.

9. Organisation Responsibilities

Organisations using P-LAH agree to:

- provide accurate information;
- post genuine opportunities;
- comply with applicable laws;
- treat applicants and participants fairly and professionally;
- avoid harassment, discrimination, exploitation and abuse;
- provide a safe environment for placements;
- honour commitments stated in opportunity listings;
- protect personal information received through P-LAH;
- use applicant information only for legitimate purposes connected with opportunities or placements;
- comply with safeguarding requirements where applicable;
- promptly report serious safety or safeguarding concerns;
- provide appropriate supervision for volunteers where applicable; and
- comply with P-LAH's Code of Conduct and other applicable policies.

Organisations must not use P-LAH to advertise unlawful, fraudulent, deceptive or exploitative opportunities.

10. Individual Responsibilities

Individuals using P-LAH agree to:

- provide truthful information;
- accurately represent their skills, education and experience;
- apply only for genuine purposes;
- communicate professionally with organisations and other users;
- honour commitments they accept;
- notify the relevant organisation where they cannot meet an agreed commitment;
- comply with relevant workplace, safety and conduct requirements;
- respect confidential information received during a placement;
- not engage in harassment, discrimination, fraud or abuse; and
- comply with P-LAH's Code of Conduct and other applicable policies.

Providing false information may result in restriction, suspension or removal from the platform.

11. Volunteer Placements

A volunteer opportunity does not create an employment relationship between the volunteer and P-LAH.

Volunteer Status and Duration

Volunteers participating through the Platform are not employees, agents, partners or contractors of P-LAH or the Organisation solely by reason of their participation. The Organisation is responsible for ensuring that each volunteer placement is structured and conducted in accordance with applicable law.

Volunteer opportunities are project-based and time-bound. The maximum continuous volunteer engagement with the same organisation is six months.

An extension beyond six months may be permitted where there is a legitimate programme or project requirement. Any such extension should be documented and approved by P-LAH and should ordinarily not result in continuous volunteering with the same organisation for more than 12 months.

Volunteer hours should be reasonable and proportionate to the nature of the engagement and should not routinely mirror the working hours of a full-time employee.

Volunteering may create opportunities for professional development, networking and employment. Where a participating organisation wishes to offer employment or another paid engagement to a P-LAH volunteer, the organisation should notify P-LAH that the volunteer is transitioning from a volunteer engagement to a paid role. This enables P-LAH to close the volunteer assignment appropriately and maintain an accurate record of the placement and its outcome.

Where a volunteer placement is agreed, additional terms may apply through:

- the applicable opportunity listing;
- the P-LAH Volunteer Agreement;
- the Organisation Agreement;
- the Code of Conduct;
- safeguarding requirements; and
- any lawful placement-specific policies communicated by the host organisation.

Where a specific written agreement applies to a placement, that agreement should be read together with these Terms.

If there is a direct conflict between these general Terms and a specific signed placement agreement, the specific agreement will apply to the matter it specifically covers.

12. Employment, Internship and Other Opportunities

P-LAH may also display internships, jobs or other professional opportunities.

Unless expressly stated otherwise:

- P-LAH is not the employer;
- P-LAH does not determine employment terms;
- P-LAH does not guarantee job suitability;
- P-LAH does not guarantee the accuracy of decisions made by an organisation;
- P-LAH does not guarantee that an organisation will contact an applicant; and
- any employment or engagement relationship is between the individual and the relevant organisation.

Organisations are responsible for complying with any laws that apply to their recruitment, internship or employment activities.

13. Ratings and Feedback

P-LAH may allow individuals and organisations to provide ratings or feedback following placements or other eligible engagements.

Users agree that ratings and feedback should:

- relate to a genuine experience;
- be provided honestly;
- not contain knowingly false information;
- not contain threats, harassment or abusive material; and
- respect the privacy and dignity of others.

P-LAH may review, restrict or remove ratings or feedback that violate these Terms or other P-LAH policies.

Ratings may form part of a user's platform history and may be considered in P-LAH's quality, verification or compliance processes.

14. Certificates and Completion Records

Where supported by the platform, eligible volunteer placements may result in a P-LAH certificate or completion record.

A certificate may depend on requirements including:

- completion of the relevant placement;
- confirmation of completion by the organisation;
- satisfaction of applicable eligibility requirements;
- P-LAH review or approval; and
- successful completion of the certificate process.

A certificate confirms the information recorded by P-LAH in relation to the applicable placement.

It does not constitute an academic qualification, professional licence or guarantee of future employment.

P-LAH may correct, revoke or invalidate a certificate where it was issued based on fraud, incorrect information or an administrative error.

15. Expenses, Stipends and Payments

Opportunity listings should state whether an opportunity is:

- unpaid;
- paid;
- stipend-supported;
- eligible for reimbursement; or
- subject to another stated arrangement.

Unless P-LAH expressly states otherwise, any salary, stipend, allowance, reimbursement or other payment connected with an opportunity is the responsibility of the relevant organisation.

P-LAH does not guarantee payment by an organisation.

Users should confirm applicable financial arrangements before accepting an opportunity.

16. Safeguarding and Safety

P-LAH takes safeguarding and user safety seriously.

Users must not use P-LAH to:

- abuse or exploit another person;
- engage in harassment;
- engage in sexual exploitation or misconduct;
- threaten another user;
- facilitate trafficking or forced labour;
- engage in fraud;
- knowingly place another person at unreasonable risk; or
- engage in conduct prohibited by P-LAH's Code of Conduct.

Serious safeguarding or safety concerns may result in immediate restriction or suspension while the matter is reviewed.

P-LAH may report matters to appropriate authorities where required or permitted by law.

17. Code of Conduct

All users must comply with P-LAH's Code of Conduct.

The Code of Conduct forms part of the standards governing participation on the P-LAH platform.

A breach of the Code of Conduct may result in:

- a warning;
- restrictions;
- review;
- suspension;
- removal from an opportunity;
- suspension of an organisation;
- termination of an account; or
- permanent removal from P-LAH in serious cases.

The response taken will depend on the nature and seriousness of the conduct and any applicable P-LAH policy.

18. Complaints and Disputes Between Users

Where possible, individuals and organisations should first attempt to resolve ordinary placement or opportunity concerns professionally and promptly.

P-LAH may assist with complaints relating to use of the platform, conduct, safeguarding or compliance with P-LAH policies.

P-LAH is not required to determine private legal disputes between individuals and organisations.

Where appropriate, P-LAH may:

- request information from the parties;
- review platform records;
- restrict an account while a matter is reviewed;
- facilitate communication;
- take action under P-LAH policies; or
- refer a matter to an appropriate authority.

19. Privacy and Personal Information

Your use of P-LAH is also governed by the P-LAH Privacy Policy.

The Privacy Policy explains how P-LAH collects, uses, stores, shares and protects personal information.

By using P-LAH, you acknowledge that you have read the Privacy Policy.

Where consent is required for a particular use of personal information, P-LAH will request that consent separately where appropriate.

20. Confidentiality

Users may receive confidential or sensitive information through applications, placements or professional interactions.

You must not misuse or improperly disclose confidential information obtained through P-LAH.

Specific confidentiality obligations relating to a volunteer placement may also be contained in the Volunteer Agreement, Organisation Agreement or an agreement between the individual and organisation.

21. Intellectual Property

P-LAH Content

The P-LAH name, logo, platform design, software, content, graphics, branding and other materials created or owned by P-LAH are protected by applicable intellectual property rights.

You may not copy, reproduce, distribute, sell, modify or commercially exploit P-LAH-owned material without permission, except where permitted by law.

User Content

You retain ownership of content you create and submit to P-LAH, such as profile information, organisation descriptions and opportunity content, subject to any rights belonging to third parties.

By submitting content to P-LAH, you give P-LAH a non-exclusive permission to store, display, reproduce and use that content as reasonably necessary to operate and provide the platform.

You confirm that you have the right to provide content you upload or submit.

Work Created During Placements

Ownership of work created during a volunteer, internship, employment or other placement may be governed by the applicable Volunteer Agreement, employment agreement, opportunity terms or another agreement between the individual and organisation.

22. Prohibited Use

You must not use P-LAH to:

- create a false identity;
- impersonate another person or organisation;
- submit fraudulent information;
- post fake opportunities;
- deceive or exploit users;
- collect user information for unrelated purposes;
- send spam or unsolicited commercial communications;
- discriminate unlawfully;
- harass or threaten others;
- introduce malware or harmful code;
- attempt to gain unauthorised access to accounts or systems;
- interfere with the operation or security of the platform;
- scrape or extract platform data without permission;
- violate another person's privacy or intellectual property rights;
- engage in illegal activity; or
- encourage another person to violate these Terms.

23. Third-Party Websites and Services

P-LAH may contain links to:

- organisation websites;
- external application pages;
- email services;
- social media platforms; or
- other third-party services.

These third parties operate independently of P-LAH.

P-LAH does not control their content, availability, security, privacy practices or terms.

Users should review the applicable policies before providing information through an external service.

24. Platform Availability

P-LAH aims to provide reliable access to the platform but does not guarantee that the service will always be available, uninterrupted or error-free.

P-LAH may temporarily restrict access for:

- maintenance;
- upgrades;
- security;
- technical problems;
- emergencies; or
- other reasonable operational reasons.

Features may be introduced, modified or removed as the platform develops.

25. No Guarantee of Opportunities or Outcomes

P-LAH does not guarantee:

- availability of opportunities;
- the number of suitable matches;
- acceptance of an application;
- placement;
- volunteering hours;
- certificates;
- internships;
- employment;
- income;
- career progression;
- continued participation by an organisation; or
- any particular outcome from using the platform.

Users remain responsible for evaluating opportunities and deciding whether to participate.

26. Suspension and Termination

P-LAH may restrict, suspend or terminate access where reasonably necessary because of:

- breach of these Terms;
- breach of the Code of Conduct;
- false or misleading information;
- fraud;

- harassment;
- safeguarding concerns;
- misuse of personal information;
- serious safety concerns;
- unlawful activity;
- repeated non-performance;
- misuse of the platform; or
- conduct that may harm P-LAH, its users or the integrity of the platform.

Where appropriate, P-LAH may request an explanation or conduct a review before making a final decision.

Serious conduct may justify immediate restriction or suspension while a matter is investigated.

Effect of Suspension or Rejection

Where an individual or organisation account is suspended or has not been approved, P-LAH may temporarily restrict access to platform functions.

This may include preventing:

- new applications;
- new opportunity listings;
- candidate invitations;
- applicant or candidate management;
- other new marketplace activity; or
- access to other features that require an approved account.

Existing applications, listings and relevant platform records may remain in P-LAH's systems for continuity, record keeping, safeguarding, dispute resolution and other legitimate purposes.

Where an organisation is suspended or not approved, its active opportunity listings may be removed from public visibility while the restriction remains in place.

A suspension does not automatically delete an account, opportunity, application, placement record or other existing history.

Where a suspension is lifted and the account returns to an eligible status, applicable platform access and public visibility may be restored.

Requesting a Review of a Suspension

An individual or organisation that believes a suspension should be reviewed may submit a request to:

appeals@p-lah.com

P-LAH aims to respond to a suspension review request within 5 business days of receiving the request.

More complex cases may take longer where additional information, investigation, safeguarding considerations or other reasonable enquiries are required.

The suspension and applicable restrictions may remain in place while the review is being considered.

Following review, P-LAH may:

- maintain the suspension;
- lift the suspension;
- impose or maintain another appropriate restriction;
- request further information; or
- take another action permitted under these Terms or applicable P-LAH policies.

Where a suspension is lifted, the account may return to the status it held immediately before the suspension, where appropriate.

Review of a Decision Not to Approve an Account

Where an account has not been approved, the account holder may request a review in accordance with Section 5.

P-LAH aims to respond to such requests within 7 business days of receiving the review request.

Submitting a review request does not automatically overturn or reopen the original decision.

Users may stop using P-LAH or request account closure in accordance with the Privacy Policy and available account procedures.

27. P-LAH's Role and Limitation of Liability

P-LAH provides a platform for connecting individuals and organisations.

P-LAH does not control every interaction, workplace, opportunity or decision made by users.

To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, P-LAH will not be responsible for loss or damage resulting solely from:

- an organisation's independent selection or employment decision;
- conduct occurring during a placement that is outside P-LAH's reasonable control;
- inaccurate information supplied by another user;
- external websites or services;
- an organisation's failure to make an agreed payment or reimbursement;
- unauthorised conduct by another user; or
- events outside P-LAH's reasonable control.

Nothing in these Terms excludes or limits any liability that cannot lawfully be excluded or limited.

28. Responsibility for Your Conduct

You are responsible for your own unlawful, fraudulent or intentionally harmful conduct while using P-LAH.

You may be responsible for losses or claims arising directly from your material breach of these Terms or violation of another person's rights, subject to applicable law.

29. Changes to P-LAH Services

P-LAH may introduce new features, update existing services or change how parts of the platform operate.

Where a change materially affects users' rights or obligations, P-LAH may provide reasonable notice through the website, platform, email or another appropriate method.

30. Changes to These Terms

P-LAH may update these Terms when:

- the platform changes;
- new services are introduced;
- legal or regulatory requirements change;
- P-LAH policies change; or
- clarification is reasonably required.

The latest version will display the date it was last updated.

Where changes are material, P-LAH may provide additional notice.

Continued use of P-LAH after updated Terms take effect constitutes acceptance of the updated Terms where permitted by law.

31. Governing Law and Dispute Resolution

These Terms are governed by the laws of the Federal Republic of Nigeria.

If you have a dispute with P-LAH, you should first raise the matter with P-LAH so that the parties can attempt to resolve it informally.

Where a dispute cannot be resolved informally within a reasonable period, the parties may attempt to resolve the matter through mediation before commencing other proceedings, where appropriate.

Nothing in this section prevents a person from exercising any right or remedy available under applicable law.

32. Other P-LAH Policies and Agreements

Depending on how you use P-LAH, additional documents may apply, including:

- Privacy Policy;
- Code of Conduct;
- Volunteer Handbook;
- Volunteer Agreement;
- Organisation Agreement;
- safeguarding requirements;
- opportunity-specific terms; and
- other policies published by P-LAH.

These Terms should be read together with the documents relevant to your participation.

33. Severability

If any part of these Terms is found to be invalid or unenforceable, the remaining provisions will continue to apply to the extent permitted by law.

34. No Waiver

If P-LAH does not immediately enforce a provision of these Terms, that does not mean P-LAH has waived its right to enforce that provision later.

35. Entire Terms

These Terms, together with the Privacy Policy and any specific agreement or policy applicable to your use of P-LAH, form the agreement governing your use of the relevant P-LAH services.

36. Contact P-LAH

Questions about these Terms may be sent to:

P-LAH
Website: p-lah.com
General support: support@p-lah.com
Account suspension or rejection review requests: appeals@p-lah.com

By creating a P-LAH account, you confirm that the information you provide is true and accurate, that you have read and agree to these Terms and Conditions and the Privacy Policy, and that you understand that P-LAH provides an opportunity listing and matching platform while organisations make their own final screening, selection, hiring and engagement decisions.

P-LAH Terms and Conditions

Governance and Funding Addendum

Effective Date 4 November 2026
Status Draft for client and legal review

This Addendum forms part of the P-LAH Terms and Conditions. It adds provisions for P-LAH's Governance Hub and Funding services. The existing approved wording of the P-LAH Terms and Conditions remains unchanged and continues to apply.

A1 Scope of this Addendum

This Addendum applies to access to and use of the P-LAH Governance Hub, P-LAH Funding services and shared account features that connect eligible P-LAH services.

The approved Terms and Conditions continue to govern use of P-LAH. The provisions below add terms that apply specifically to Governance and Funding services.

A2 Shared Accounts and Access Across P-LAH Services

P-LAH may allow an account created for one P-LAH service to be used to access another eligible P-LAH service with the same sign-in details.

An organisation may be asked to review, complete or update its profile before using certain features. Access to the Governance Hub does not require the organisation approval process that may apply to opportunity posting or other Volunteer and Opportunities platform features, unless P-LAH states otherwise for a specific feature.

The user responsible for an organisation account must be authorised to act for that organisation and must keep account and organisation information reasonably accurate and up to date.

A3 Governance Hub Services

The Governance Hub may provide services including:

- organisation profiles;
- governance or organisation strength assessments;
- assessment scores, results, recommendations and history;
- priorities, urgency selections and improvement planning;
- governance resources, tools, templates and downloads;
- support requests and communications;
- information about experts and external booking options; and
- related services intended to support organisational development.

P-LAH may add, update, replace or remove Governance Hub features, assessment content, scoring, recommendations, resources, experts or support options as the service develops.

A4 Organisation Categories and Assessment Access

P-LAH may provide different assessments, questions, recommendations and resources for different organisation categories, including NGOs and SMEs.

An organisation is responsible for selecting the category that accurately describes it and for updating that information if its status changes.

Assessment access and recommendations may depend on the organisation category recorded in the organisation's profile.

A5 Assessments and Results

Governance assessments are self-assessment tools. The organisation is responsible for answering questions honestly and for deciding the urgency and priority of any action it may take.

Assessment results, scores, recommendations and improvement plans are provided for informational and organisational development purposes. They do not constitute:

- legal, financial, accounting, tax, regulatory or other professional advice;
- an audit, assurance opinion, accreditation or certification;
- a guarantee of governance quality, legal compliance, funding readiness or organisational performance; or
- a substitute for advice from an appropriately qualified professional.

An organisation remains responsible for its decisions, policies, compliance and use of any assessment result or recommendation.

P-LAH may keep a submitted assessment result with the version of the assessment used at the time. Changes to assessment content, scoring, recommendations or resources do not automatically change a previously submitted result.

A6 Resources, Tools and Templates

Governance resources, tools, templates and downloads are provided for general information and practical support. An organisation should review and adapt them for its own circumstances and obtain professional advice where appropriate.

Unless P-LAH expressly states otherwise, access to a resource does not transfer ownership of the resource or permit its sale, unauthorised distribution or commercial exploitation.

Some resources may be supplied by or link to third parties. Any third-party rights, conditions and notices continue to apply.

A7 Experts and Support

P-LAH may display information about experts or provide links that allow an organisation to request support or book a discussion.

The availability of an expert, acceptance of a request and the scope or terms of any engagement are not guaranteed. Unless P-LAH expressly agrees otherwise in writing, any professional engagement arranged after an introduction or booking is between the organisation and the relevant expert.

An organisation should independently assess whether an expert or service is suitable for its needs.

A8 Funding Services

P-LAH Funding services may display or link to grants, funding calls, competitions, investors, donors, support programmes or other funding-related information supplied by P-LAH or third parties.

Unless otherwise specified, this website is not affiliated with the abovementioned organizations. The material provided here is solely for informational purposes and without any warranty. Visitors are advised to use it at their discretion.

P-LAH does not guarantee:

- that a funding opportunity remains open, accurate, complete or available;
- that a user or organisation is eligible for a funding opportunity;
- that an application will be reviewed, shortlisted or accepted;
- that funding will be offered, paid or continued; or
- any particular outcome from using P-LAH Funding services.

Users are responsible for checking official eligibility rules, deadlines, conditions and application instructions with the relevant funder or provider before relying on or acting on funding information.

A9 External Applications and Third Party Services

A Governance or Funding feature may direct a user to an external website, calendar, document, application page, email service or other third-party service.

Third parties operate independently of P-LAH. P-LAH does not control their availability, decisions, content, security, privacy practices or terms.

Where an application, booking or engagement takes place outside P-LAH, the relevant third party is responsible for that external process.

A10 Responsible Use

Users must not use Governance or Funding services to submit false or misleading information, manipulate assessment results, misrepresent eligibility, obtain another organisation's private information, misuse resources, interfere with the platform or engage in fraud, bribery, corruption or unlawful conduct.

A breach may result in action under the approved Terms and Conditions and Code of Conduct, including restriction, suspension or termination where appropriate.

A11 Relationship with the Approved Terms

This Addendum should be read together with the approved P-LAH Terms and Conditions, Privacy Policy, Code of Conduct and any other document applicable to the relevant service.

If there is a direct conflict between this Addendum and the approved Terms and Conditions, this Addendum will apply only to the matter it specifically covers in relation to the Governance Hub or Funding services. All other approved provisions remain unchanged.